JOHN HARBAUGH

HEAD COACH

COLLEGE: MIAMI (OH)
BORN: 9/23/62, PERRYSBURG, OH
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 24/14

Super Bowl-winning head coach JOHN HARBAUGH – the 2019 NFL Coach of the Year – has led the Ravens to a playoff berth in nine (2008-12, 2014 & 2018-20) of his 13 seasons in Baltimore, and in 2012, captured the franchise's second World Championship.

Though he never wants it to be about him, it's impossible to ignore Harbaugh's significant success. Here's a look, entering the 2021 campaign:

- Since his 2008 Baltimore arrival, the Ravens have posted the NFL's fifth-most total victories (140).
- Under Harbaugh, Baltimore is one of four teams (NE, GB & Sea.) to earn a playoff berth in nine of the past 13 seasons. The Ravens are also one of four teams (KC, Sea. & NO) to make the playoffs in each of the past three seasons (2018-20).
- Harbaugh's 11 playoff victories rank as the fourth most by a head coach in the first 13 seasons of an NFL coaching career (Joe Gibbs – 16, Bill Belichick – 15 & Chuck Noll – 14).
- Harbaugh owns the most road playoff wins (eight) by a head coach in NFL history. Tom Landry (Dal.) and Tom Coughlin (Jax./NYG) are second with seven each.
- The Ravens' 11 playoff wins since 2008 tie (GB) for the NFL's second most (New England, 16). Of those Ravens' victories, an NFL-best eight have come on the road.
- Harbaugh is one of 10 coaches to earn at least nine playoff berths in his first 13 seasons (Tony Dungy – 11; Bud Grant & Marty Schottenheimer – 10; Harbaugh, Pete Carroll, Bill Cowher, Mike Holmgren, Chuck Knox, Mike McCarthy & Andy Reid – nine each).
- The 2012 Ravens won Super Bowl XLVII, 34-31, over the San Francisco 49ers in one of the most dramatic games in NFL history. Baltimore jumped to a 28-6 lead, but needed a critical goal-line stand late in the fourth quarter to help seal the victory. The Ravens overcame a furious second-half comeback and a 34-minute power outage at the Mercedes-Benz Superdome in New Orleans to clinch the franchise's second World Championship.
- Under Harbaugh's guidance, the Ravens have appeared in three AFC Championship games (2008, 2011, 2012) and have won at least one playoff game in seven of their nine postseasons with him as head coach.
- Harbaugh has led the Ravens to 129 regular season wins since 2008, ranking as the NFL's fifth most.
- Harbaugh is the only head coach in NFL history (since 1970 merger) to win a playoff game in each of his first four and five seasons. He is also the only head coach in NFL history to win a playoff game six of the first seven seasons of a coaching career.
- John and his younger brother, Jim (2011, 2012 and 2013), the former 49ers' head coach, are the only NFL head coaches to reach three conference championships in the first five seasons of a coaching career.

PERSONAL

Devoted to his family and his Christian faith, John is most active in helping the Baltimore area be better for families. He earned the 2011 "Power of Excellence Award" from the (Ben) Carson Scholars for "demonstrating excellence in life and being a role model." He served on the board of the Port Discovery Children's Museum and is a contributor to numerous Baltimore-area events and charities. Also a willing volunteer, his wife, Ingrid, contributes to both the Helping Up Mission and Sarah's House. In 2020, the couple made significant donations to help fund the distribution of meals to healthcare workers serving on the frontlines of the COVID-19 pandemic.

Harbaugh is an advocate of the U.S. Military. The NFL awarded him its 2013 Salute to Service Award, acknowledging exceptional efforts by those in the league who honor and support military members. (Harbaugh was also a finalist for the award in 2011.) In 2012, Army Chief of Staff General Raymond Odierno presented him with the Outstanding Civilian Service Award. Harbaugh has also visited numerous military installations, including bases in the Persian Gulf as part of the inaugural NFL USO Coaches Tour (2009), the Naval Special Warfare Center in Coronado, Calif., (2011), Andrews Air Force Base – just two days after the capture of Osama Bin Laden (2011) – and undisclosed locations in Turkey and Afghanistan.

In 2008, Harbaugh also helped institute Military Appreciation Day, an annual event that takes place during Ravens training camp. Since its establishment, over 10,000 service members have enjoyed preferred seating and opportunities to meet Ravens players and coaches. Once the season begins, Harbaugh then invites wounded warriors to be his guests at every Ravens home game. In 2017, he donated New Era hats to soldiers in Afghanistan. The hats represented all four of the major professional sports leagues and several from the NCAA as well. Additionally, he has purchased school supplies for children whose parents are serving in the military and has sent care packages to troops overseas.

A history buff, Harbaugh has taken the Ravens to Gettysburg, Pa., during offseason team activities to learn about the Civil War. Near the end of the 2017 training camp, he surprised the entire team by cancelling practice on two occasions, loading everyone on buses to visit The Pentagon and Arlington National Cemetery and another day visit to the National Museum of African American History and Culture in Washington, D.C. The trips were opportunities for players, coaches and staff to receive behind-the-scenes tours of the historic locations and show appreciation for what each represents.

John attended Pioneer (Ann Arbor, MI) HS, where he and brother, Jim, were inducted into the school's Hall of Fame in 2016. John and Ingrid have a daughter, Alison, who is a sophomore lacrosse player at the University of Notre Dame.

CHRIS HORTON

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

COLLEGE: UCLA
BORN: 12/29/84, LOS ANGELES, CA
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): (NFL/RAVENS): 11/8 (3 PLAYING / 8 COACHING)

CHRIS HORTON is in his third season leading the Ravens' exceptional special teams group. Since joining the team in 2014, Horton has helped Baltimore's units perform exceptionally over the last several seasons. In 2020, K Justin Tucker, the most accurate kicker in NFL history, connected on 26-of-29 FGAs, including a 55-yard game-winner in Week 14 at Cleveland, en route to earning his fourth Pro Bowl nod. Tucker has scored more than 130 points in five-straight seasons (2016-20), tying an NFL record for consecutive seasons with 130-plus points (Stephen Gostkowski, 2011-15, & David Akers, 2008-12). In 2019, Tucker earned first-team All-Pro honors after converting 28-of-29 FGAs (96.6%) and scoring a franchise-record 141 points for the fourth-straight season. He was the NFL's only kicker to surpass the 140 mark in each of the four years from 2016-19. For many seasons, the Ravens have been near the top of special teams rankings. In the annual special teams report from senior NFL writer Rick Gosselin, Baltimore has ranked in the NFL's Top 6 for eight of the past nine seasons (2012-20), including first in 2015. The Ravens' unit finished ranked sixth in Gosselin's 2020 report. (Gosselin's report is considered by many as a strong special teams measuring stick.) In 2018, Tucker made 35-of-39 FGAs. (His misses were from 53 and 65 yards, and he had 2 kicks blocked.) In the annual special teams DVOA (Defense-adjusted Value Over Average) ratings from Football Outsiders, a popular metric for analyzing and comparing each play to the league average based on a number of variables, Baltimore has finished in the Top 10 every year since 2012, including a Top 6 finish in seven-consecutive seasons (2012-18) and a Top 3 finish in four-consecutive seasons (2012-15). In 2018, the Ravens also ranked fifth in the NFL in punt return average (11.5), with CB/RS Cyrus Jones posting the league's fourth-best mark (13.2).

ADDITIONAL COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

In 2014, Horton entered the NFL coaching ranks with the Ravens working with the team's OLBs. Horton played safety for four seasons in the NFL with Washington (2008-11) after being selected by the burgundy and gold in the seventh round of the 2008 NFL Draft.

2020 RECAP

K Justin Tucker earned his fourth Pro Bowl after connecting on 26-of-29 FGAs, including a 55-yard game winner in Week 14 at Cleveland...Rookie WR Devin Duvernay returned a kickoff 93 yards for a TD, marking 1 of only 7 KOR-TDs during the 2020 NFL season...Duvernay became the fifth Ravens rookie and the youngest Raven (23 years, 16 days) in franchise history to register a KOR-TD...Baltimore's 26.7 KOR average ranked as the NFL's second-best mark in 2020...P Sam Koch was the NFL's only punter to have at least 20 punts downed inside the 20 (22) with no more than 1 TB...LS Morgan Cox was named first-team All-Pro and earned his fourth Pro Bowl...Rookie WR James Proche II returned 23 punts for 198 yards (8.6 avg.), earning PFWA All-Rookie special teams honors.

DON MARTINDALE

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

COLLEGE: DEFIANCE COLLEGE
BORN: 5/19/63, DAYTON, OH
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 17/10

DON "WINK" MARTINDALE is in his fourth season leading the Ravens' defense, which has continued its long-standing tradition of excellence by ranking consistently among the league's best defensive units. In 2020, Martindale's unit allowed the NFL's second-fewest points (18.9) and seventh-fewest yards (329.8) per game. Since Martindale was named defensive coordinator (2018), Baltimore has produced an NFL-best 12 defensive TDs (tied LAR) and has permitted both the league's fewest points per game (18.2) and total yards per game (307.8). Over the last three seasons (2018-20), Baltimore also leads the league in number of players to record a sack (33) and second-half points allowed (401), while ranking No. 2 in both fourth-down stops (41) and opponent QB rating (81.9). Martindale's 2019 group achieved a strong No. 4 ranking (300.6 ypg), helping the team to a franchise-best 14-2 record and second-straight AFC North Division title. The Ravens' 6 defensive TDs tied (with '06 and '08) for the second most in franchise history (2004 – 7) and also tied (TB) for the most in the NFL in 2019. After guiding his unit to a No. 1-overall ranking (allowed 292.9 ypg) in his first season as coordinator (2018), Martindale was recognized by Sports Illustrated/MMQB as the Assistant Coach of the Year and was the AP NFL runner-up (Bears DC Vic Fangio) for the same award. Baltimore established a modern-era mark by not allowing a second-half touchdown in the first six games of 2018. (The last team to do so was the 1934 Detroit Lions.) Baltimore was also among the best in other key defensive categories in 2018, including ranking third in third-down defense (34.1), fourth in rushing yards allowed (82.9 ypg) and fifth in passing yards permitted (210.0 ypg). The Ravens' 80.6 defensive passer rating stood second, only behind the Bears' 72.9 mark.

Initially joining the Ravens in 2012, Martindale guided and helped grow a number of standout Ravens linebackers, most notably former ILB C.J. Mosley, who developed into one of the league's top linebackers, earning a lucrative contract with the New York Jets in 2019. In 2017, the Ravens led the NFL in INTs (22), takeaways (34) and shutouts (3 – the most in a season since the 2003 Patriots). Over the past five seasons (2016-20), the Ravens have allowed the second-fewest points per game (18.7), recorded the fourth-most interceptions (75, tied with Pit. & Buf.) and posted the second-most takeaways (126, tied with NE) in the NFL. In 2016, Baltimore produced an NFL-high 18 INTs (tied, KC & SD). Following 2014, Mosley became the first rookie Raven to earn Pro Bowl honors and finished second in the AP NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year voting. In addition to Mosley, former Ravens LB Daryl Smith was a standout performer for Baltimore, becoming one of just two NFL players (Lavonte David) to post at least 350 tackles, 5 sacks, 5 INTs and 4 FFs from 2013-15. In 2013, Smith led the team with 123 tackles, also setting a Ravens' single-season record by a linebacker with 19 PD. In Martindale's first season in Baltimore (2012), he coached Hall of Famer Ray Lewis in his final season, helping the Ravens win Super Bowl XLVII.

2020 RECAP

Ravens allowed the NFL's second-fewest points (18.9) and seventh-fewest yards (329.8) per game...They also forced a league-high 25 FFs and ranked No. 2 in third-down defense (34.0%)...CB Marlon Humphrey (8 FFs, No. 1 in NFL) earned his second Pro Bowl, as did OLB Matthew Judon, while newcomer DE Calais Campbell earned his sixth trip...Rookie LB Patrick Queen posted a team-high 105 tackles, while he was also the NFL's only defender with at least 70 tackles, 3 sacks, 2 FFs, 2 FRs, 1 INT and 1 defensive TD.

GREG ROMAN

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

COLLEGE: JOHN CARROLL
BORN: 8/19/72, ATLANTIC CITY, NJ
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 24/7

GREG ROMAN is in his third season as the Ravens' offensive coordinator. Under Roman's leadership, Baltimore's rushing attack has been superb. In 2020, the Ravens' run game finished No. 1 in the NFL (191.9 ypg) for the second-straight season and produced the third-most yards (3,071) in a 16-game NFL season. (The Ravens own two of the Top 3 marks, setting the single-season rushing record in 2019 with 3,296.) Entering 2021, Baltimore has rushed for 100+ yards in 39-straight games, posting the second-longest streak in pro football history. Since 2018, the Ravens have averaged the most rushing yards per game (183.5) and scored the most ground TDs (64) in the NFL. In 2020, Baltimore also registered an NFL-best six games with at least 200 rushing yards, including a franchise record 404-yard output in Week 17's victory at Cincinnati. The Ravens' 24 rushing TDs in 2020 set a new single-season franchise record. In his first season at the helm (2019), Roman led Baltimore's attack to record-setting heights, ultimately earning him NFL Assistant Coach of the Year honors. The "revolutionary" Ravens posted the best offensive season in team history, helping Baltimore to a franchise-best 14-2 record. Led by 2019 unanimous NFL MVP QB Lamar Jackson, the Ravens ranked No. 1 in points (33.2) and rushing yards (206.0) per game, while they finished No. 2 in total yards (407.6). The Ravens set a new NFL single-season rushing record (3,296), besting the 1978 Patriots (3,165). Baltimore became the first team ever to average 200 passing and 200 rushing yards per game in a season. The 2019 Ravens also set season team records for TDs (64), points (531), net yards (6,521), rushing yards (3,296), first downs (386) and fewest turnovers (15). Jackson accounted for a league-high 43 total TDs, including an NFL-best (and franchise-record) 36 passing scores. Jackson also rushed for 1,206 yards (sixth most in the league), setting a new NFL single-season record by a QB. TE Mark Andrews had 10 receiving TDs, ranking No. 1 among all NFL tight ends and tying (WR Cooper Kupp) for second by all players. RB Mark Ingram II posted 15 total TDs, tying a single-season team record (Ray Rice, 2011) and ranking fourth overall in the NFL. In 2018, Roman coached a young group of tight ends, all of whom played a role in the team's offense. Rookie Andrews (third-round draft pick) ranked No. 1 among rookie NFL tight ends in receiving yards (552) and No. 3 in receptions (34).

ADDITIONAL COACHING HIGHLIGHTS

Roman has 24 years of experience coaching in the NFL for five teams, including as offensive coordinator for three of them. With Roman as OC, San Francisco earned three-straight trips to the NFC Championship game (2011-13) and a Super Bowl appearance against the Ravens in 2012. As the Bills' OC, Roman helped Buffalo's run game excel in 2015, as it led the NFL with 152.0 rushing yards per game and 4.78 yards per carry. With SF and Buffalo, Roman worked with NFL QBs who, at the time, totaled their highest single-season passer ratings under his guidance: SF's Alex Smith (104.1 in 2012) and Colin Kaepernick (98.3 in 2012) and Buffalo's Tyrod Taylor (99.4 in 2015). (Smith eclipsed his own mark while with KC in 2017 - 104.7.)

2020 RECAP

Dobbins set a team rookie record with 9 TDs...For the second-straight year, Baltimore had three players – QB Lamar Jackson (1,005), Dobbins (805) & RB Gus Edwards (723) – rush for over 700 yards each (the 2020 Ravens joined the 2019 Ravens and 2011 Panthers as the only teams ever with three 700-yard rushers in a season).

He was part of a Ravens' team that defeated San Francisco in Super Bowl XLVII (2012).

TIGHT ENDS COACH

Bobby Engram, who enjoyed a 14-year NFL playing career, is in his eighth season with the Ravens and his third as the team's tight ends coach. In 2020, the Ravens' offense continued to flourish, scoring the NFL's seventh-most points (29.3 ppg) and leading the league in rushing (3,071) for the second-straight season. Standout TE Mark Andrews tied for the team lead with 58 catches for 701 yards and 7 TDs in 2020, becoming the first TE in Ravens history with multiple seasons of at least 700 receiving yards and 7 receiving TDs.

Chris Hewitt enters his seventh season leading the Ravens' secondary, which has posted the NFL's third-best pass defense (219.7 ypg) since 2015. Promoted to pass defense coordinator prior to the 2020 campaign, Hewitt's units have helped the team earn standout defensive rankings each of the past several years. In 2020, Baltimore allowed the NFL's second-fewest points (18.9) and seventh fewest yards (329.8) per game. The Ravens also owned the second-ranked third-down defense (34.0%) and produced a league-high 25 FFs.

D'ANTON LYNN
DEFENSIVE BACKS COACH

D'Anton Lynn, an eight-year coaching veteran, enters his first season as Baltimore's defensive backs coach. Lynn spent the past three years with the Houston Texans, serving as the team's secondary coach (2020) and assistant secondary coach (2018-19). In 2018, the Texans allowed the NFL's fourth-fewest points allowed per game (tied, Jax. - 19.8) and tied for ninth (with four other teams) in INTs (15). Houston's franchise-record +13 turnover differential ranked second in the NFL.

TEE MARTIN

He also spent training camps with the Bears (2001), Lions (1997) and Colts (1995). He has been a part of staffs at Wayne State University (2019-20), Eastern Michigan (2014-18; 2004-08), Miami (OH) (2011-13; 1991-98), Illinois State (2009-10) and Northwestern (1999-2003).

Beginning his coaching career at the collegiate level, Ryan first entered the NFL as a defensive backs coach with the Arizona Cardinals, under his father Buddy Ryan, in 1994. He previously served as defensive coordinator for the Oakland Raiders (2004-08), Cleveland Browns (2009-10), Dallas Cowboys (2011-12) and New Orleans Saints (2013-15).

His focus includes player injury prevention, recovery and energy system training in an effort to maximize performance.

TRAVIS SWITZER
OFFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL COACH

After earning an invitation to the Dolphins' rookie minicamp in 2015, Switzer soon transitioned into the coaching ranks. He originally was hired by Baltimore in an administrative-performance role under head strength & conditioning coach Steve Saunders in 2017, a post he held through the 2018 season.

For the past three years, he has mentored QB Lamar Jackson, helping the signal-caller earn unanimous NFL MVP honors in 2019, becoming the youngest player to earn the award (22 years, 358 days) in only his second NFL season. Entering 2021, Jackson is 30-7 as a regular season starter, becoming the first QB in NFL history to reach 30 wins in his first 37 starts. The Ravens scored the NFL's seventh-most points (29.3 ppg) in 2020, with Jackson completing 64.4% of his passes for 2,757 yards, 26 TDs and 9 INTs (99.3 rating), also adding 7 rushing TDs.

CRAIG VER STEEG
RUNNING BACKS COACH

Craig Ver Steeg is in his 14th year working with the Baltimore offense and his first as the team's running backs coach. In 2020, Baltimore finished with the NFL's No. 1 rushing attack (191.9 ypg) for the second-straight season. The Ravens produced the third-most rushing yards in a 16-game NFL season (3,071) and, entering 2021, have rushed for 100+ yards in 39-straight games, marking the second-longest streak in NFL history.

ANTHONY WATSON
ASST. STRENGTH & CONDITIONING COACH

Anthony Watson is in his third NFL season as the Ravens' assistant strength and conditioning coach. Watson works closely with head strength and conditioning coach Steve Saunders to oversee a program that helps prepare players for the rigors of each NFL season. He joined the Ravens after spending several years working at Power Train Sports in Pennsylvania. (Power Train is a sports performance and fitness training facility founded by Saunders in 2000.) Watson attended Lycoming (PA) College, where he played basketball.

ANTHONY WEAVER
RUN GAME COORDINATOR/DEFENSIVE LINE

Anthony Weaver, who is now in his 12th season of coaching, reunited in 2021 with the Ravens, the team that drafted him in 2002. Following a seven-year NFL playing career along the defensive line – with his first four seasons in Baltimore (2002-05) and his last three in Houston (2006-08) – Weaver began coaching in 2010. He joined the Houston Texans in 2016 as the defensive line coach and was later promoted to defensive coordinator/defensive line coach in 2020.

OPINION: RAVENS HAVE ANSWERED MOST OF THEIR BIGGEST OFFSEASON QUESTIONS

BY JOHN EISENBERG
BALTIMORERAVENS.COM
JUNE 15, 2021

Soon after their 2020 season ended with a playoff loss in Buffalo, the Ravens formulated a list of issues they hoped to address during the offseason.

In the ensuing months, they've made many moves, added and subtracted players and coaches, set tactical changes in motion. Although they won't play a game that counts for another three months, the outline of the 2021 team is coming into view.

A top priority was upgrading the offensive line, which had a rough time in the playoff loss, and in fact, has struggled in every playoff loss since 2019. I agree that it was time to do something about that.

The Ravens invested $36 million in guard Kevin Zeitler and tackle Alejandro Villanueva, a pair of veterans who, barring injury, should solidify the right side.

Bradley Bozeman's move from left guard to center should further solidify the overall unit. One of the Ravens' personnel mantras is "right player, right price." Bozeman's move feels like "right player, right time." Having played the position at Alabama, he can handle the snaps and calls.

Questions will linger on the left side because Ronnie Stanley is recovering from a serious ankle injury, and the guard job is up for grabs. But in the end, there'll be new starters at four spots, a full-on reconfiguring featuring more established players.

Although losing tackle Orlando Brown Jr. doesn't help, I think there's a good chance the Ravens will field a more consistently effective O-line in 2021.

Improving the passing game was also a top priority. Have the Ravens done enough? The Ravens have taken a methodical, multi-faceted approach, and there's a lot to like.

They signed Sammy Watkins and drafted Rashod Bateman and Tylan Wallace, hopeful of giving quarterback Lamar Jackson more viable targets. They brought in coaches who stress the fundamentals of route running, hopeful of better unleashing the talent of their young receivers.

Add that to cornerstones Marquise Brown and Mark Andrews, and it sure seems the pieces of a more consistent and dangerous passing game are present.

It was interesting to hear offensive coordinator Greg Roman explain that the pandemic made it tough to install more challenging pass-game concepts in 2020; they tried to do it on gamedays, he said. This year, though, they're already installing what should be the final ingredient of a pass-game upgrade.

The biggest issue on defense is the pass rush after the loss of several top edge defenders in free agency. Have they done enough to address that? It's not as clear.

Holdovers Tyus Bowser, Pernell McPhee and Jaylon Ferguson and newcomers Odafe Oweh and Daelin Hayes should be fine against the run and might surprise as pass rushers, but at this point, it's fair to wonder if they can generate enough pressures and sacks. It wouldn't surprise me if the Ravens add a veteran with a track record.

Signing Jackson to a new contract was another major question the Ravens have faced in 2021. Can they get it done?

The clock really isn't ticking yet with Jackson still two seasons away from the end of his rookie deal. He wants what he deserves, but he and the team have an amicable relationship. I've always thought it was just a matter of when they get it done, not if, even with the big dollars involved.

I'm sure the Ravens would love to finalize a mega-deal destined to impact every other deal they make going forward, but with the salary cap likely to rise in 2022, patience may be required.

Big picture, the team on the field is one of the AFC's best, especially with Jackson, now in his fourth season, becoming more of a battle-tested pro.

The Ravens wanted to put a more balanced and consistent team around him in 2021, and I'd say their efforts have them on the right track.

2021 BALTIMORE RAVENS

"We're excited about being back to football. Players are enthusiastic. We all worked really hard – and smart – during OTAs. I feel like the guys have been great in terms of doing it the way it's supposed to be done in terms of the mental part of it, [the] technique part of it and avoiding any physical contests or anything like that. They've done a great job with that, so I really feel good about all of it. We try to get better every day. That's our goal – get a little bit better every day and see where it takes us."

– Ravens Head Coach John Harbaugh

RAVENS OFFENSE: NOT APOLOGIZING, JUST IMPROVING

BY DAN HOROWITZ

The Ravens' offense, which over the past two seasons ranks No. 1 in points per game (31.2) and No. 4 in total yards per game (385.3), is poised to be an even stronger attack in 2021, and that's a scary thought for defensive coordinators.

The number "three" symbolizes harmony, and when it comes to gashing defenses, J.K. Dobbins, Gus Edwards and Lamar Jackson are in lockstep. In fact, in 2020, they became the third trio in NFL history to each rush for over 700 yards. And here's another number: 39. Heading into 2021, Baltimore has eclipsed 100 rushing yards in 39-consecutive games, just four shy of the NFL's all-time record. "We've spent the last two-and-a-half years building, probably, one of the most creative run games in the history of the National Football League," head coach John Harbaugh said this offseason, reflecting on the Ravens' rushing prowess. "I don't want to over dramatize it, but it'd be pretty hard to argue against that."

You can never have too many playmakers, and with the addition of wideouts Rashod Bateman and Sammy Watkins, Baltimore has a plethora at its disposal. Bateman, a highly-touted receiver tabbed in the first round of the 2021 NFL Draft, will complement Marquise Brown, Mark Andrews and a promising group of pass catchers. "He's going to be able to play inside and outside for us," offensive coordinator Greg Roman stated about the Minnesota product. "He does a lot of things well, and I think we'll be able to use him in a lot of different ways." Watkins brings with him a list of accomplishments over his eight-year career and a resume

> "Our offense has won us a lot of football games here, and we're not apologizing for that for one second. We are going to improve it, no question about it. We're going to go to work to be more precise, more efficient and better at what we do. That's what we have to do – be better at it."

that includes two Super Bowl appearances, a 1,000-yard receiving season and numerous clutch-worthy postseason performances. "His reputation precedes him arriving here," said quarterbacks coach James Urban of Watkins. "He's a terrific player who's played at a very high level in this league for a long time."

There's an old football adage: The game is won or lost in the trenches. Well, Baltimore's offensive trenches will look quite different this season. "We want to be a team that can dictate to the defense what we want to do," executive vice president and general manager Eric DeCosta explained. "I think part of that is being a team that can run the football – a physical, big, mashing style of offense." Two-time Pro Bowl tackle Alejandro Villanueva, who towers at 6-foot-9, and rookie third-round guard Ben Cleveland, who draws resemblance to "The Mountain" from Game of Thrones, certainly fit the bill. Add in the acquisition of veteran guard Kevin Zeitler and the return of All-Pro tackle Ronnie Stanley, and this revamped unit appears primed to conceive its GM's vision.

"Our offense has won us a lot of football games here, and we're not apologizing for that for one second," Coach Harbaugh emphatically stated following the 2020 season. "We are going to improve it, no question about it. We're going to go to work to be more precise, more efficient and better at what we do. That's what we have to do – be better at it."

RAVENS DEFENSE

CELEBRATE THE NEW "RAVENS WAY"

BY DAN HOROWITZ

The Ravens' defense has been a force throughout Don "Wink" Martindale's tenure as defensive coordinator. At the helm of the defense since 2018, "Wink" has instituted a hard-nosed, turnover-provoking style that stops the run, pressures the quarterback and, most importantly, requires versatility from its players. During that span, Baltimore has produced an NFL-best 12 defensive touchdowns (tied LAR) and has permitted both the league's fewest points per game (18.2) and total yards per game (307.8).

"Our defense is based on that premise, the idea that guys can play multiple positions," head coach John Harbaugh asserted. "It's not unusual for us to move guys around. You'll see safeties playing linebacker, linebackers playing safety, defensive ends playing middle linebacker. From play to play, we really try to keep the offense from understanding who is where and why."

Most defensive coordinators agree that the No. 1 priority is always to stop the run, even in today's game, and Baltimore has three veterans in Brandon Williams, Calais Campbell and Derek Wolfe to handle the load. Dubbed "The Monstars" by "Wink" himself, an ode to the Space Jam alien villain basketball players, the run-stuffing trio helped Baltimore's defense control the line of scrimmage in 2020 and will be a major factor again in 2021.

In an offseason that saw the departure of primary pass rushers Matthew Judon and Yannick Ngakoue, the Ravens will rely on newly-extended Tyus Bowser, second-year linebacker Patrick Queen and a number of emerging talents, including rookie first-rounder Odafe Oweh, to get after the quarterback. It's an unheralded, but highly-motivated group. "The makeup of our room right now – it's hard not to love it," said outside linebackers coach Drew Wilkins. "Every one of them, despite the difference in age, they all have something to prove right now. They all have that chip on their shoulder, and that leadership ability comes from everywhere."

The dangerous duo of cornerbacks Marlon Humphrey and Marcus Peters leaves opposing quarterbacks with quite a dilemma when targeting their favorite receivers. Their coverage skills are superb, but it's their playmaking and "ball-hawking" that separates the tandem from other one-two punches. And talking about punches, Marlon Humphrey, A.K.A. "Fruit Punch," registered a league-leading and Ravens' single-season record 8 forced fumbles in 2020, en route to his second-straight Pro Bowl nod. On the other side is three-time Pro Bowler Marcus Peters, who, since being drafted in 2015, owns the most interceptions (31) and second-most passes defensed (86 – tied) in the NFL.

The "Ravens Way" is a Baltimore path to victory led by its stifling defense. In recent years, it's been used to encapsulate the havoc generated by the combination of versatile personnel and creative scheme, which has led to contributions from all different players in all different ways. "We don't really care who makes a play, and I think that's what makes it so fun," Marlon Humphrey said last season after Baltimore became the first team ever to have five defensive backs register a sack in a single game (vs. Cincinnati). "Whoever makes a play, it seems like we all celebrate like we made it, because we feel like we all had our hand in that play."

The official mustard and ketchup of the Baltimore Ravens

RAVENS SPECIAL TEAMS: BREATHE EASY

BY DAN HOROWITZ

When most fans, coaches or players see their special teams unit take the field, they hold their breath until the kick splits the uprights, the punt is booted off cleanly or the gunners make the tackle. In Baltimore, though, when the Ravens' special teams units trot onto the field, there's a calm confidence that permeates throughout the stadium.

Justin Tucker, the league's most accurate kicker in NFL history (90.7%), has connected on 291-of-321 field goal attempts, en route to four first-team All-Pro honors and four Pro Bowl nods. "We kick field goals, and this guy makes them all," said head coach John Harbaugh. "We're confident when kicking field goals with Justin Tucker."

Sam Koch, who's played in the most regular seasons games (239) by a Raven, holds the franchise record for punts (1,097), gross average (45.3) and net average (39.7). "When his number is called, the one thing I know about Sam is he's going to be ready, and he's going to put his best ball out there on every rep," stated special teams coordinator Chris Horton.

Leading Baltimore's coverage units is veteran special teams ace Anthony Levine Sr. "He's not only just a good player, but he's a coach. He's like having an extra coach out there," said Horton. "He does a great job communicating to the young guys and really just helping those guys study a little bit – how to prepare for special teams, what you should be looking at and things like that."

Breathe easy, Baltimore.

#RAVENSFLOCK

LET'S MEET THE NEWEST MEMBERS OF THE #RAVENSFLOCK!

"This is a brotherhood, and here, it's definitely special. You've got a young group of guys on this team and great coaches and a great vibe. It feels like a team that's ready to win the Super Bowl, a team that's ready to win and go out there and have fun, put up points – good defense, good special teams. I'm just happy to be here and be involved with a good organization, and I think that's the most critical thing in my career now. I'm in one of the best spots, I think, that I ever chose, probably in my life – just to be on a good team, on a good staff and with good surrounding people."

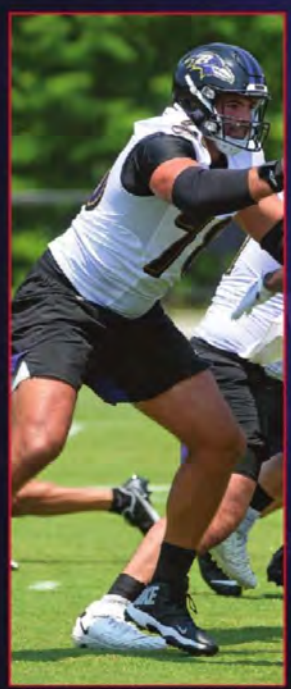
– WR SAMMY WATKINS

"Sammy looks good. He's big, and he's fast. He has good hands, and he's a veteran guy. The thing I've noticed about him is he really is a student of the game. He really wants to improve his game. He's very much a stickler for the fundamentals and for pushing himself on the fundamentals; in and out of routes, angles, eyes, hands [and] hand placement. All that stuff has just been something that he works at. He asks a lot of questions of his coaches. He always wants to know what he can do better. When you see that in a guy … He's only 28 years old. I'm very hopeful that maybe his best football is still in front of him. He's young enough for that to be the case."

– Head Coach John Harbaugh

"The offensive line for the Ravens, the way that they're coached and the attitude that they have has been something that has been respected in the AFC North ever since I've been playing in the NFL. I know that [my former offensive line coach] had a lot of admiration for the way that the Ravens ran zone schemes. So, if anything, I feel a bigger responsibility to make sure that this new revamped offensive line is something that can come to fruition."

– T ALEJANDRO VILLANUEVA



"Getting those guys merged into the offense is a big part of it, and then also watching them play has been a pleasure. They're all ball, all the time – both of those guys. Whether it's meeting room, weight room, conditioning or on the field work – they're all ball, all the time. I love that about them. I think they're going to be a formidable tandem on the right side [of the offensive line]. I'm really pleased with them so far."

– Head Coach John Harbaugh

"Winning and being on a great established team was definitely my goal. No matter where I [signed as a free agent], that was going to be part of it. Baltimore was just the right fit for me. After talking to Coach Harbaugh and everything, I thought it fit what I do well with my run blocking. For me and my family right now, Baltimore was the place to be."

– G KEVIN ZEITLER

COVID-19

The Baltimore Ravens have stayed committed to supporting healthcare workers and nonprofits focused on helping those in need during the COVID-19 pandemic. Since March of 2020, the Ravens have donated over $2.35 million, including substantial allocations to the Maryland Food Bank, the Fund for Educational Excellence, the United Way of Central Maryland and the Baltimore Community Foundation. Additionally, the Ravens donated $250,000 to the Baltimore Health Corps, which recruits, trains and employs more than 300 jobless residents to serve as contact tracers. In addition to financial support, the Baltimore Ravens and M&T Bank Stadium hosted an emergency blood drive, and the stadium served as a COVID-19 mass vaccination site.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

Since 2017, the Ravens have donated over $3.2 million to local organizations promoting social justice while encouraging players to be at the forefront of change. In June of 2020, the Ravens and The Stephen and Renee Bisciotti Foundation donated $1 million to support 28 Baltimore-area nonprofits that are committed to social justice reform. In addition to financial support, Ravens players and executives have facilitated discussions with several politicians, including U.S. Senator (MD) Ben Cardin and the late Maryland Congressman Elijah Cummings. In August of 2020, Ravens players and coaches teamed up to write an impassioned statement advocating for specific systemic changes, which they ultimately signed the next day and delivered to then-U.S. Senate Majority Leader Mitch McConnell.

RAVENS FLOCK TOGETHER AT TWO BALTIMORE ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS

On June 9, 2021, the Ravens hosted an organization-wide volunteer day alongside Heart of America (HOA) to renovate, refurbish and transform Baltimore's Edgecombe Circle Elementary School and Curtis Bay Elementary School. Funded by the Ravens Foundation, Ravens staff members joined representatives from HOA to comprise the 100-plus volunteers who flocked together to renovate the spaces.

Throughout the day, volunteers at Edgecombe Circle installed a brand-new outdoor classroom with flowers, plants, outdoor seating and picnic tables. The group also created a peace and meditation room filled with books, furniture and wall decals. Volunteers at Curtis Bay also created a peace and meditation room and refurbished a school hallway leading to the meditation room. They also assembled backpacks stuffed with school supplies and teacher appreciation kits.

In just six hours at the two locations, the Ravens were able to transform both schools for students and faculty as they looked to close out the school year and prepare for more in-person education in the fall. The Edgecombe Circle and Curtis Bay restorations continue the Ravens' long-standing commitment to making a difference in the Baltimore community.

HOLIDAY HAPPENINGS

Thanks to Ravens players and alumni, thousands of families receive support, including food and presents, during the holidays. While 2020 assistance was mainly virtual, Ravens players continued to find new and unique ways to spread holiday cheer across the city. The 2020 food and gift distributions featured the support of more than 12 players, including Anthony Averett, Bradley Bozeman, Calais Campbell, Marlon Humphrey, Anthony Levine Sr., Pernell McPhee, Marcus Peters, Jimmy Smith and Ronnie Stanley. Additionally, former Raven Torrey Smith hosted a meal giveaway at Baltimore's Hilton Rec Center. Smith, who runs programming at the center, distributed Thanksgiving meals, produce and books to families in West Baltimore.

CRUCIAL CATCH

During the 2020 season, the Ravens and the American Cancer Society (ACS) expanded the reach of their efforts with the NFL's Crucial Catch initiative, which addresses early detection and risk reduction efforts for all types of cancers. Although fans were not allowed in the stadium due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Ravens continued to emphasize Crucial Catch programming through "fan cutouts" honoring current patients, survivors and those who lost their battle to cancer. Fans were able to purchase a custom cutout with all proceeds benefiting the American Cancer Society.

RAVENS SALUTE THE MILITARY

THE RAVENS SAY THANK YOU TO VETERANS AND ACTIVE MILITARY SERVICE MEMBERS THROUGH SALUTE TO SERVICE CAMPAIGN.

In association with the NFL's Salute to Service campaign, the Ravens honor veterans and active duty members of the military all year in many ways, including hosting military members at training camp and practices, visiting veteran hospitals, hosting workouts for wounded warriors and paralyzed veterans, and showing support through care packages, letters and daily communication. At each home game, the Ravens honor groups that include military representatives, first responders, veterans and/or wounded warriors through the CSX Seats for Service program. Additionally, the team honors active and veteran service members with the Cigna Hometown Hero Award during an in-game presentation. In 2020, the Ravens hosted a homecoming for members of the Maryland National Guard, as soldiers of the 729th Quartermaster Supply Company returned home and were reunited with their loved ones in the parking lots at M&T Bank Stadium.

THE NFL MOVEMENT FOR AN ACTIVE GENERATION

Each year, the Ravens continue their commitment to promoting healthy and active lifestyles among today's youth through the NFL PLAY 60 campaign. Although the Ravens were unable to host traditional school assemblies in 2020 because of the COVID-19 pandemic, the team delivered virtual programming through the recognition of local PLAY 60 Champions, the Recipe of the Month program and virtual instructional fitness activities and insight. Through special partnerships with the American Dairy Association North East, Carroll County Project ACES (Active Children Excel in School) and Baltimore and Howard County Public School Systems, the team annually delivers the PLAY 60 message to more than 125,000 local youth across the Baltimore metro area.

ChildFund®

As we social distance, COVID-19 pushes us apart.

As we help children around the world, we pull together.

The pandemic shows how connected we all are, how the quality of life anywhere affects everyone's health and well-being, everywhere.

Children in the world's poorest places face the gravest risks – not just from COVID-19, but also from its ripple effects, especially hunger. Because when parents can't work, children can't eat. We've never seen a crisis like this.

But ChildFund is helping millions of children across Africa, Asia and the Americas stay connected to what they need to grow up healthy, educated and safe. In the biggest emergency response of ChildFund's 80-year history, we and caring people everywhere are pulling together to make sure that children not only survive the pandemic but thrive beyond it.

SOMETHING TO RAVE ABOUT

St. Jude patient Keeton blood cancer

Keeton's family didn't give up. We won't either.

When Keeton was found to have blood cancer, his family was referred to St. Jude for treatment, where he's undergoing two-and-a-half years of chemotherapy. "St. Jude means everything to me," said Keeton's mom. "They're saving my baby's life." Treatments invented at St. Jude have helped push the overall childhood cancer survival rate from 20% to more than 80% since it first opened more than 50 years ago. We won't stop until no child dies from cancer.
